This Store Is a "Great Entrepot" Filled With Wearables For Winter

This store is a great "entrepot" filled with all the wearables of winter carefully brought together.

Yet, however meritorious everything is, it has to be seen to be appreciated, and the prizes of first choice can only be secured by personal attention.

This suggestion and a hearty invitation to visitors to come and see for themselves.

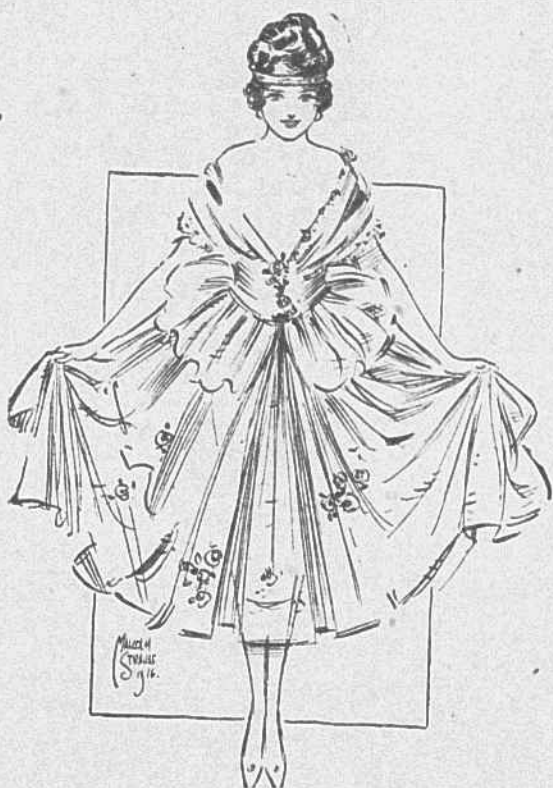

The first of the new "Paul Poiret" gowns just received and will be shown by appointment only.

New Maraboa Necwear

Charming things every one of them, particularly the cape collars of which we are showing a very attractive assortment in Natural and white, All natural, Black and white, Grey, All white, All black. ## Men's Initial Handkerchiefs Six for $1.50

We Wish to Call Attention to Some Lovely New Evening Gowns

On show in the Rose Room, Salons of Dress on the second floor. Please notice particularly the resemblance of these fashions, and what you see pictured as the Vogue.

The moderateness of our prices commend this beautiful assemblage of fashions to your purse-sense, $15.00 to $50.00.

Several ultra smart creations from Mme. Jackson, $50.00 to $90.00.

Java Rice Powder. Rose, Naturelle, Blanche, Rachel, 50c. Powell's Coco Butter, sanitary foiled sticks, 10c each.

"Foolish to Sell Them for 25c," Said the Drummer.

If you want to give them away without profit—do it, but you can't buy again at the price you sell them for.

Yes we know it! We anticipated such a thing and that was our reason for buying $1,800 pairs so we can continue these splendid half hose for men at 25c a pair.

Fibre-silk plated, reinforced heels and toes; colors, black, white, grey and navy blue. (Main Floor, East Aisle)

This is the Best Yarn of the Season Flesher's

threads are made of long wool with a hard twist that adds strength. Other yarns, being loosely twisted, are not as strong as Flesher's.

All the sweater shades and plenty of each—plenty of purple, the seller of the hour, 17c a skein.

Buy All the Percales You'll Need for a Year—Now, Why?

Because the prices are advancing and we ourselves, if going into the market to buy, would have to pay more than we are asking for these. There are two hundred pieces in dark and light styles. Patterns suitable for house dresses, waists, undershirts and men's shirts. At the old price still maintained, 12½c a yard.

In this age of appreciation people are demanding better and more durable decorations for their homes. They realize that beauty and durability are not incompatible, that draperies are no longer a luxury, but a necessity.

Every thrifty housewife who is planning for the winter will find many helpful suggestions in the drapery store on the third floor.

May we expect you today?

We Have Made Some Strong Statements About Our Carpets and Rugs

And the one that follows is the strongest yet—our prices are one-third less than we could sell carpets should we have to buy them in the present market. In other words, our standard Royal Wilton rugs, 9x13 feet at our old low prices, $35.00; would cost $45.00 to $47.00.

We ask no man or woman to accept our judgment as final.

But we are anxious to have it put to a practical test. Let an unbiased judge of floor coverings examine these rugs; let him or her compare them with any other guaranteed rug to be had in Clarksburg.

Royal French Wilton Rugs, $35.00 to $65.00 each; 9x12 ft.

Axminster Rugs, $22.50 to $30.00; 9x12 ft.

Tapestry Rugs, $10.00 to $22.50; 9x12 ft.

Body Brussels, $25.00 to $32.00; 9x12 ft.

And let the result tell the story.

We know definitely whereof we speak; our contract for present stocks were made in some instances a year ago, and every rug and carpet is sold at the old, old prices.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Ladies of the Maccabees.
A most interesting session was held at the last regular meeting of the Mount Clare live of the Ladies of the Maccabees. A large attendance was noted. Also there was a goodly representation from Clarksburg and McWhorter. The ladies of Lewis hives, gowned in white, with colors of the order, and the beautiful regalia, had charge of the initiatory work, conferring the degree upon a large class of candidates in a pleasing and impressive manner with Mrs. K. E. Moore, state deputy commander, presiding. Several drills were executed by the entire membership present. Fraternal greetings were extended to the new hives and good talks made by visiting members. A most delightful social hour followed the close of the business session. The ladies of Mount Clare hives served home-made cake and delicious coffee.

Everyone is looking forward to the county rally to be held at McWhorter October 25 in which all tents and hives are expected to participate. The night session will be open to sir knights and visitors and all members of the order. The program will appear later.

To Attend Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. James W. Williams and daughter, Miss Gertrude, went Sunday evening to Perth Amboy, N. J. to attend the marriage of their son, George Alvin Williams, to Miss Frances Whitehead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Whitehead, which will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in Saint Peter's Episcopal church.

Club Organizes.
The College Girls' Sewing Club has organized for the winter season and

A FIGURE-HEAD AT THE PROW OF YOUR HAT GIVES IT QUITE A SEA-GOING AIR

Showing the figure-head, millinery's most recent adornment.

A figure-head at the prow of your hat is said to have something very nautical and fetching about it. It is the newest adornment employed by milliners and will probably be popular. The prow of the hat, like the prow of a boat, is in front. If the boat idea develops there may be propellers in the rear that will keep the neck cool in hot weather.

was entertained from 3 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon by Miss Grace Flowers in her home on Mulberry street. This week's meeting will be entertained by Miss Ruth Maxwell from 3 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

To Be at Wedding.
William Leachman is in the East and will attend the Williams-Whitehead wedding on Wednesday evening at Perth Amboy, N. J., before returning home.

Mr. Kinnaird Married.
The Norfolk, Va., Times of October 6 contained the following account of a wedding of interest here because of the fact that the bridegroom is a brother of Charles M. Kinnaird, well known printer of this city:
A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Baptist church in Westover avenue, when Miss Marion P. Littlefield of Boston, became the bride of Paymaster John H. Kinnaird, U. S. A. S. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of the church. There were no attendants and the ceremony was witnessed only by a few intimate friends. Immediately after the ceremony Paymaster and Mrs. Kinnaird left for a northern wedding trip.
Paymaster Kinnaird is attached to the U. S. S. Cyclops.

To Entertain.
Complimentary to Mrs. Clifton Conly, of Cleveland, O., Mrs. John L. Ruhl will entertain at cards from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon in her home on East Main street.

PERSONAL

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Posing for a Photograph.
Many handsome women do not seem to realize the artistic limitations of photography, and especially do not know how to dress for the part of having their pictures taken. For instance, a hat should never be worn at an angle that cuts off the line of the brow. If a hat is worn at all it should set back enough to allow the hair to frame the face beneath, but nothing but a Gainsborough looks well this way, as a rule. For the most artistic photograph a hat is not to be considered at all. Neither is a coat or wrap. The hair should be rolled softly. For a young girl, a low neck and a short sleeve waist or soft white silk simply trimmed with lace gives a good effect.

Silk net over silk makes a soft, indefinable line where the neck and rounded-out gown meet. Not a jewel nor even a string of pearls should mar the perfect simplicity and exquisite girlish grace of such a gown. Such a photograph will be the same in point of artistic perfection years hence, for the round evening waist is always in fashion and always artistic, while the change in coiffure will only make the picture quaintly interesting because as it is the simplest, it cannot appeal in bad taste. If you wish to see what a photograph should not be, look at some specimens hidden away in old albums.
